

I understand this proposal you are considering could diminish the protection we receive from Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. Since Indiana has enacted this law our family can actually sit down at the table and eat a complete meal without any telemarketing phone calls. Prior to Indiana's Telephone Privacy law we were getting two to three telemarketing phone calls a day and more often than not we would get five to six calls a day. Some of these callers would not take "no" or "not interested" for an answer and so I would have to hang up on them. It was very upsetting.

Please DO NOT implement any proposal which would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Thank you. Sharon C Turner
